"The Impact of Reading on Our Lives"

- A Winter Fireside Chat in the Afternoon with Connie Doebele

beginning at 2:00 pm

hosted by Marcia Hajduk

4608 Custer Drive , Harrisburg PA 17110-3208

(weather postponed date - Thursday, January 11, 2024)

Love to read? And eat delicious goodies?! Have special books played an important role in your life? Every person has a different relationship with reading during their life...but all of us are impacted in some way. Former C-SPAN BookTV Senior Executive Producer (and new Harrisburg Branch member) Connie Doebele will address her career experiences, talk about authors she has interviewed, the power of books in her life, and how that impact continues in her retired life in Harrisburg, delving into how books change lives and how reading is both informative and enjoyable. And, are special foods connected with any of your particular favorite books? To add to the cozy winter afternoon ambience, you are invited to bring a favorite book-connected food (and perhaps the book itself or a card to designate it). We have had several "chef" volunteers already, so check with Marcia H. whether more contributions are needed. Come with thoughts about books that changed your life, places that influenced your reading life, and authors who make reading informative and enjoyable for you.

Co-Chairs:
Lee Johnson
Marcia Hajduk

As one of her book purveyors puts it "Explore every nook, cranny, fireside, hiding place, secret door, and gallows. With her inquisitive nature and cheeky humor, author M. Diane McCormick uncovers the quirks and historical marvels that you won't find on the back of the menu."

BYOB*. We will provide appropo snacks.

Insight Into Our Winter Presenters

Connie Doebele

Connie Doebele spent 25 years as a senior executive producer and on-air interviewer for C-SPAN television. After many years interviewing politicians, she was asked to head up a new division featuring non-fiction books called Book TV, which is now in its 25th year.

From 2017 to 2021, Connie was at the helm of The Center for C-SPAN Scholarship & Engagement (CCSE) as CCSE's first Managing Director. Based at Purdue University, CCSE is a national research center focused on discovery, learning, and engagement utilizing the C-SPAN Video Library. Connie was instrumental in establishing many of its signature programs including the CCSE Internships, Undergraduate Research Competition, and the CCSE Student Community. Besides creating the internships with C-SPAN, she facilitated many incredible opportunities for students including visiting historic presidential sites as well as connecting students with nationally known guest speakers.

Newly retired in Harrisburg, she continues her focus on books as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Dauphin County Library. Connie enjoys leading discussions about the power of books in our lives. Every person has a different relationship with reading. And it can change during different parts of their lives. What influenced you at an early age? Come with thoughts about books that changed your life, places that have influenced your reading, and authors who make reading enjoyable to you.

Her talk about some of the authors she has interviewed will include video clips of the sessions.

Connie served as moderator of our April, 2023, meeting with Catherine Lawrence and Eric Papenfuss analyzing the evolution of the award winning Midtown Scholar Bookstore.

M. Diane McCormick

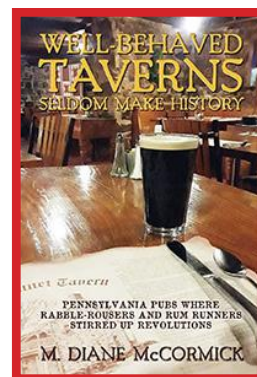

Journalist and freelance writer M. Diane McCormick has been writing since she got A+++’s on fourth-grade English assignments. Her degrees in journalism, BA from IUP; American studies, MA from PSU; and creative nonfiction from Goucher College attest to her love of writing the real stories of real people, current and past. For her work with TheBurg she explores city life and issues, winning a 2017 first-place Keystone Press Award. As Harrisburg magazine’s “Adventure Chick,” she has handled a python and driven a Ferrari among many adventures. For all of which, she is both the 2022 and 2023 winner of the Keystone Media Awards Freelance Journalist of the Year. She is a regular contributor to Susquehanna Style as well as varied industry magazines.

Before going freelance, Diane served for 10 years as press secretary to Pennsylvania House of Representatives for Pennsylvania House Democratic Caucus, including one term in House majority leader’s office of gubernatorial candidate, Ivan Itkin. She was also communications director for Pennsylvania Partnerships for Children.

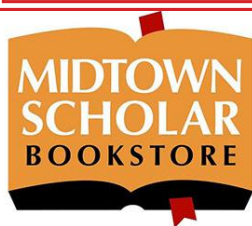

Sunbury Press published her first - and so far only - book, Well-Behaved Taverns Seldom Make History: Pennsylvania Pubs Where Rabble-Rousers and Rum Runners Stirred Up Revolutions.

Her book delves into the drama and secrets in the “walls” of taverns throughout our state including the City Tavern, Philadelphia: Epicenter of revolt; General Warren Historic Hospital-ity, Malvern: Espionage afoot; and Dobbin House Inn, Gettysburg: Underground Railroad safe harbor, to the Wooden Keg Tavern, St. Clair: the fighting Molly Maguires; Two Rivers Brewing Company, Easton: Speakeasy on the Delaware; and the Horse Inn, Lancaster: “Knock three times and whisper low.”

Diane and her husband live in a circa-1910 home in Harrisburg, PA, with a cat who “never lifts a paw to help clean.”

Branch Partnerships - Updates, Links, and Events

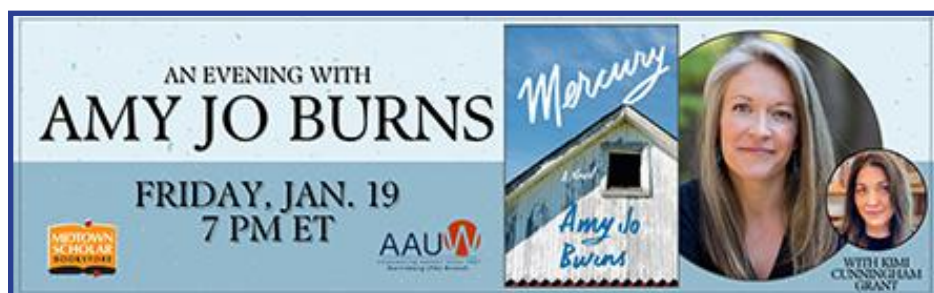

Midtown Scholar Bookstore co-owner Eric Papenfuse recently appeared on "Pawn Stars Do America," on the History Channel, and he even made a sale!

His treasure was a first-edition copy of A Defense of the Constitutions of the United States of America, written by U.S. President John Adams in 1787. An expert on the show said the book would be worth a substantial amount in a retail environment, and Rick Harrison, one of the show's hosts and an avid history buff, purchased it. Season 2, episode 6 "Rhode Island Riches", can be streamed at <https://play.history.com/shows/pawn-stars-do-america/season-2/episode-6>

Our AAUW Harrisburg chapter is happy to co-sponsor two upcoming events at the Midtown Scholar Bookstore. Please come and enjoy these wonderful authors, stimulating conversation, and good company. See you there!

Amy Jo is a friend of the store. Some of us were able to attend her recent interview with Patti Callahan Henry. She's a wonderful person, and her new novel, Mercury, set in Pennsylvania, was recently selected by the American Booksellers Association as the best book of January 2024.

Mercury is a beautiful, heartfelt novel about a family of roofers in blue-collar Mercury, Pennsylvania, whose bonds of loyalty are tested when they uncover a long-hidden secret at the heart of their town.

We are thrilled to welcome New York Times bestselling author Sadeqa Johnson to Harrisburg for a conversation and signing on the paperback release of her new novel. Sadeqa is the New York Times best selling author of five novels and teaches in the MFA program at Drexel University.

About the book: 1950s Philadelphia: fifteen-year-old Ruby Pearsall is on track to becoming the first in her family to attend college. But a taboo love affair threatens to pull her back down into the poverty and desperation that has been passed on to her like a birthright. Eleanor Quarles arrives in Washington, DC, with ambition and secrets. When she meets the handsome William Pride at Howard University, they fall madly in love. With their stories colliding in the most unexpected of ways, Ruby and Eleanor will both make decisions that shape the trajectory of their lives.

If you need a ride to the Midtown Scholar Bookstore, feel free to contact HarrisburgAAUW@gmail.com

Please Note: To enter the signing line, books must be purchased from the Midtown Scholar Bookstore. Copies of the book will be available for purchase at the event, or you may preorder a copy of the book for pickup/shipment.

These events are free and open to the public!

From Mantel to Museum: the Eclectic Legacy of Patricia L. Murray

During her lifetime, Patricia L. Murray served as one of the founders of the Susquehanna Art Museum (SAM), a donor to the institution, an educator, and a private art collector. Just recently, in 2023, parts of her collection were donated to SAM posthumously, highlighting her dedication to the museum before, during, and after its creation.

From Mantel to Museum: The Eclectic Legacy of Patricia L. Murray showcases an eclectic mix of artistic styles, form, and thematic content by local and regional artists: F.L. Wall, Joan Danziger, Leon Berkowitz, Douglas Zucco, Theo Tobiasse, and Ellen Siddons. Subsequently, it invites viewers to recognize Murray as an overtly positive force in the history of SAM and the greater Harrisburg art world.

Gallery: Patricia L Murray Gallery

Curated by Alex Gabriel, Susquehanna University Intern

Since their inception, art museums have had a deep, complicated relationship with private art collectors. The connection between art collectors and the museums to which they donate also have the potential to be beneficial not only for the museums and collectors, but also for the community that they serve.

Patti exemplified this philosophy. She loved to help those in need and worked hard to improve the lives of others by contributing to the culture of the community as well as the well being and advancement of women. She greatly supported education and outreach programs that enabled women to reach their personal goals and was very active in her membership and personal support of several local non-profits including active membership in the Harrisburg Branch AAUW and The League of Women Voters of the Harrisburg Area, her continued supporter of SAM and supporter of the YWCA of Geater Harrisburg . She passed away suddenly in 2005, but had already made arrangements to carry on her love of these non-profits as shown in this gallery now open to the public.

Rosalynn Carter

our First Lady alongside 39th President Jimmy Carter from 1977 to 1981, passed away aged 96, Sunday, November 19, 2023. She was a passionate life long champion of mental health, caregiving, and women's rights, and was a great humanitarian in her own right. Though soft-spoken, she was nevertheless politically astute and assertive, lobbying vigorously for the Equal Rights Amendment and for women to participate at all levels of government. In private life, Rosalynn and Jimmy embarked on what would be the longest, most active post-presidency in American history. They traveled the world in support of human rights, democracy and health programs. Domestically, they labored in service to others.

pounding nails for Habitat for Humanity.

Sandra Day O'Connor

passed away on December 1, 2023, at the age of 93. Although William H. Rehnquist, her Stanford Law School classmate, served as chief justice during much of her tenure from 1981 until 2006, the Supreme Court during that crucial period was often called the O'Connor court, and Justice O'Connor was referred to, accurately, as the most powerful woman in America.

Very little could happen without Justice O'Connor's support when it came to the polarizing issues on the court's docket, and the law regarding affirmative action, abortion, voting rights, religion, federalism, sex discrimination and other hot-button subjects. That the middle ground she looked for tended to be the public's preferred place as well was no coincidence, given the close attention Justice O'Connor paid to current events and the public mood.

Public Policy Updates, Links, and Events with Public Policy Chair, Kathy Gates

There is legislation moving through the Pennsylvania House right now that could make paid family leave a reality in PA - tell your state legislator to support it. The bipartisan-supported Family Care Act (HB181) passed through the PA House Labor & Industry Committee and is poised to come to the floor for a full House vote.

HB181 recognizes something we already know to be true: family takes care of family. By establishing a paid family medical leave program in Pennsylvania, the Family Care Act would allow:

- parents to be there for their newborn following birth or care for their child during an illness
- family members to provide critical care for elderly loved ones
- workers to care for themselves following a major surgery

December 13, 2023 - “historic” bump in expanded PA Child and Dependent Care tax credit.

Governor Shapiro signed into law major expansion of child and dependent care tax credit which expands the Child Care Tax Credit for over 200,000 Pennsylvania families. The new rules allow individuals to claim 100% of the federal credit they claimed. That’s up to $3,000 for a single dependent and $6,000 for two or more. The “historic” bump means one-child families will receive a credit worth as much as $1,200, while those with multiple children could receive as much as $2,100.

An invitation from Kathy Gates :

Congratulations to Carol Nechemias who has been appointed the liaison for AAUW to Fair Districts PA - Dauphin County.

The Domestic Violence SOS signal is performed by holding your hand up with your thumb tucked into your palm, then folding your fingers down, symbolically trapping your thumb in your fingers. It was intentionally designed as a single continuous hand movement, rather than a sign held in one position, that could be easily visible.

A Bit of a Preview of the Holiday Tea Special Edition Coming Later This Month

The Centerpiece of the 2023 Holiday Tea, held on Saturday, December 2, was a Royal Tea - and meeting of the minds - of some of Fairy Tale Lore's most famous heroines as they work through the shock of Fairy Godmother's announced retirement. Here are just a few pictures from that conference and the rest of our event - a prelude to a special Winter Edition of the Connection coming soon.

right: Judy Daniels again ran a successful book table for AAUW Funds. With customers like Carol Buskirk, Kathy Bard and Linda Szeerba, she will not have to figure out what to do with any leftovers.

Chris Zuzack stayed in character to run the Branch meeting, while Cindy D. switched to secretary to take the minutes.

At least a half dozen "Kathy" members were in attendance. I-r: Kathy Gates, Kathy Seidl (propping up Elvis, cuz he is pretty two dimensional), Kathy Krausse, Kathy Silks, and Kathleen O'Malley. Kathy Bard had "left the building", but she is in the picture to the right.

AAUW HARRISBURG DIVERSITY STATEMENT

AAUW Harrisburg condemns racism. We are committed to building a more just society where everyone, no matter the color of their skin, can live without fear, pursue their life goals, and thrive. Systemic racism is firmly rooted in the U.S., and today's injustices mirror our shameful history — from police brutality to inequality in educational opportunities to the disproportionate impact of COVID-19 on communities of color. Our country needs healing. That healing will only come with justice.

AAUW Harrisburg is committed to fighting for justice and long-term and lasting change and will collaborate with government officials, educators, and community organizations to address systemic racism and inequality in our community. To make a change, we must ACT, identifying ways in which each of us can optimize our recognition, acceptance and inclusion of all diverse groups and our roll in achieving equality in all its aspects in our community and our country, from patronizing minority owned businesses to contacting our government leaders. AAUW Harrisburg's Co-Presidents Christine Zuzack and Jane Pomerantz; Diversity, Equity, Inclusion & Belonging Chair Kathy Silks; and Membership Co-Vice Presidents MaryAnn Daniels and Kathy Seidl are leading this important effort.

OUR MISSION

To advance gender equity for women and girls through research, education, and advocacy.

OUR VALUES

Nonpartisan. Fact-based.

Principled. Inclusive and Intersectional with Equity for All.
